Partnerships is the blood that flows throughout the Emerging 100 of Atlanta body. Every program depends on it. Every event is funded by it. The Partnerships team must know every program, every partner, and every opportunity — because they are the ones who connect the classroom to the college campus to the corporation.

WHAT MAKES MONEY MOVE

White glove service. Partners stay because they feel valued, seen, and connected to impact. The relationship doesn't end when the check clears — it deepens. Regular touchpoints, impact data, and genuine care for their KPIs is what keeps sponsors coming back year after year.

You must have GRIT. Fundraising is a long game. Rejections happen. Timelines slip. The ask requires resilience, follow-through, and the willingness to hear no five times before getting a yes. The Partnerships team must be the most persistent people in the org.

You must be a storyteller. The kids and the work tell the story. A Partnerships person who can walk a corporate executive from a BEST Academy session to a C100 Career Fair to a Gala scholarship reveal — that's the pitch. Classroom → College Campus → Corporation. Connect those dots and the money follows.
