DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

FUNCTION

Civic Responsibility

Voting engagement, community action, civic discourse. Non-partisan always.

VOTING EVENTS

Election-Dependent

We will not always do Votelanta. Voting activities vary based on what local elections are happening in Atlanta.

STAPLE EVENT

Street Clean-Up

December. OCU owns fully. Community action beyond voting.

AUDIENCE

Atlanta Community

External and community-facing. Public participation welcome.

OVERLAP

H&W + Community Service

Housing/equity bootcamps coordinate with H&W. Street Clean-Up adjacent to Community Service.

NON-PARTISAN

Always

OCU never endorses candidates. Voting engagement only. This is a non-negotiable.

OCU's North Star: Civic responsibility is part of E100's identity. The same energy E100 brings to mentoring students, it brings to showing up as active citizens in Atlanta. OCU ensures E100 is never silent on civic participation – while staying firmly non-partisan.

Voting engagement is flexible by design. OCU will not always run a Votelanta-style event. The activities depend entirely on what elections are happening in Atlanta – mayoral, city council, school board, state, federal. OCU monitors the election calendar and activates accordingly. When there's nothing to vote on, OCU focuses on clean-up, civic education, and community discourse.
